Support:

Support Services for the iSeries

The iSeries ships with standard NEXSAN Warranty and Support Services which covers the entire iSeries including all Nexsan supplied components and systems. iSeries customers have the option of purchasing onsite spares for an additional charge.

Onsite Spares Program

For maximum convenience and protection of critical storage devices, this program provides customers with on location spares. This program enables our customers to have in their facility all commonly used spare parts to facilitate rapid restoration of operations. Along with our optional 24x7 telephone support, customers can now be assured of rapid resolution to any problem. Defective components can then be advance replaced for constant availability.

Standard Support Services for Nexsan storage systems attached to the iSeries

Nexsan Technologies SASBoy, SATABoy, and SATABeast storage systems are warranted for three full years from the date of shipment. Upon verification of component failure and issuing of a Return Material Authorization (RMA), replacement equipment will be advance-shipped to the customer. An RMA can be obtained by phone, fax or email and will accompany all replacement equipment shipped. Warranties are non-transferable without prior consent from Nexsan. Extended Warranties are available for purchase.

Regulatory Approvals

CE, UL, CUL
